

Artsweek update

9th November

Last Tuesday Grade 12 students: Abeer Mehra, TaeHee Park, Chau Bui, Vy Nguyen, Victoria Rosales and Mimi Yu with the help of Jong Soo Kim from Grade 11 and Ho June Chun from Grade 10 drew the first layer of figures onto the wall with the use of projectors and oil pastel. Art staff were on hand to help with organization and the development of the composition.

Monday saw the first coats of paint being added to the mural by Elementary and Middle School students with Ms Manthey and Ms Blair. Demonstrating "Unity" and collaborative working, Middle and Elementary students worked together.

Keeping the space clean and painting with care were the goals for everyone and making sure every student was able to participate was important.

8H worked with 3S in the morning.

Grade 7J worked with 6P in the middle of the day.

After being shown the correct way to hold a paint brush and the amount of paint to apply at any one time, we had a much more successful session! 7J and 6P worked really well together and both classes ensured the outline of each figure was refined and the silhouette kept its original shape.

5L worked in the afternoon.

ArtswEEK update

Tuesday 10th

On Tuesday 6G continued the painting of the first layer of bodies.

They worked with great care and commitment and were able to complete about 5 figures between them.

In the afternoon Grade 3N had their turn, no matter how briefly due to the shortened day. By the end of the day the whole first layer of images was complete.

In the evening a dedicated group of grade 7 students came and projected the second level of

Day 3 Wednesday 11th Nov

Grade 7, grade 8, grade 5L, grade 6E and grade 4D worked enthusiastically to complete the second layer of figures.

By the end of the day it looked like this, as photographed by students in Grade 4D .

In the evening of day three the final 10 silhouettes were placed onto the wall for one final day of Painting on Thursday 12th November.
